Introducing

SILSDEN SEVEN THREADS OF LEARNING

3th December 2024

Dear Parents and Carers,

Welcome to our new Seven Threads of Learning. These are seven personal skills that go beyond a child's academic development to help our children become well rounded, resilient and confident individuals.

We have considered how we improve our school offer further and ensure that Silsden Primary School pupils are well prepared for the next stage in their lives by the end of Year 6. We believe that the opportunity for children to develop these skills will help achieve this aim.

The seven skills; Challenge, Resilience, Responsibility, Independence, Communication, Imagination and Enjoyment, were presented to our School Council who have decided that we call them the "Silsden Seven"

These are not just words. These skills will be promoted in all that we do at school, both inside and outside of the classroom. Children will get rewards though the schools reward scheme for demonstrating specific strengths in or willingness to develop these skills.

By the end of your child's time with us we hope that they will be able to demonstrate strengths in each of these skills. They will be able to articulate where they learnt them in school, and more importantly how these skills will help them to succeed later in life.

Please ask your children about them and feel free to use them at home to support your child's development.

Thank you for your ongoing support and encouragement.

Yours faithfully,

K.S.Russell
